

Royston Watch Co.

Manufacture Restoration and Repair

Poljot 3133 Chronograph, Tachymeter

Highly collectible 3133 movement

$400.00 CAD

Ref# 9059

Size 36.5mm

This Russian made Poljot Chronograph watch has a much valued, but out of production, 3133 movement in excellent working condition.

It is a 2 register Chronograph with:

- Date at 6 o'clock
- Minute dial at 3 o'clock
- Sub-seconds dial at 9 o'clock
- Tachymeter markings on Dial

The back case is Mineral Crystal which shows off the beautiful 3133 movement in motion. The 23 Jewel movement is stamped and is in New Condition. The beautiful case is stainless steel. This watch was purchased as NOS and has never been worn. There is some damage on the inside of the case, which is only visible from the underside of the watch.

Elgin Mech. Alarm Watch

This is a rare complete, working, Elgin Mechanical Alarm watch from the 1960's

$295.00 CAD SOLD

Ref# 9058

Size 34.5 mm

This beautiful watch is also very interesting. The movement is in good condition and the alarm feature works! The movement is a 979.

The dial is in very good condition, with large gold block markers and the date at 3 o'clock. There is some wear on the alarm hand.

The case is gold plate and there is no wear through showing.

This is a sweet example of a great retro watch!

OSCO Parat S

Vintage, 14k Solid Gold Case, 17 Jewel, Circa 1955

$400 CAD SOLD

Ref# 9066

Size 32mm

This is a fine example of a high end OSCO Parat S watch from the 1950's.

The 14K Solid Gold case is in excellent condition with almost no signs of use. It is stamped with a 14C hallmark and case No 58979.

The inside cover has a beautiful finish, demonstrating the overall quality and care in the manufacture of this watch.

The original movement is also in excellent condition, and is keeping good time. It is stamped with movement No. OS 1065.

The OSCO watches were (and still are) manufactured in Germany, and have a good reputation for being excellent timepieces.

This classic watch is both simple and elegant. The Solid Gold case adds to the overall value both as a timepiece and as a collectible.